Urban Land Institute Southeast Florida/Caribbean

2017 Call for Nominations

VISION AWARDS

Project of the Year

Nominations are now open for the Urban Land Institute's Southeast Florida/Caribbean District Council's 2017 Vision Awards Project of the Year. This year's Awards Dinner will be in the fall, and the winner(s) of this call for nominations will be announced at the event. Finalists for this category will be announced in advance.

Award Criteria for Project of the Year

- The nomination process is open to all – not just to ULI members.
- The nominated project may be any market type – residential, hospitality, office/retail, industrial, mixed use or any combination of uses. It may be a comprehensive development or a single building. It may be a public or private sector project; the jury may select a winner from each category.
- Civic projects that have a significant positive impact on community will also be considered for a public category, e.g., Millennium Park in Chicago; the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts (2009 Vision Award Recipient)
- The project must be physically located within ULI Southeast Florida/Caribbean's geographic boundaries, i.e., located within the counties of Monroe, Miami-Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, or in the Caribbean.
- The project must be in stable operation, financially viable, and worthy of emulation.
- The project must embody excellence in as many of the following categories as possible:

▪ Impact within the Community ▪ Design ▪ Legacy - a path-breaking, influential project exemplifying best land use and development practices that has exerted a significant impact in the region	▪ Sustainability ▪ Land Use ▪ Public/Private Cooperation ▪ Building Healthy
